

YALE ELEVEN SHOWS PLENTY OF DRIVE

Bomeister and Gallauer on the Ends in Signal Drill, but Then Rest.

PRINCETON HARD AT WORK

President-Elect Wilson Goes to Field to See Practice and Wishes the Team Good Luck.

(By Telegraph to The Tribune.)
New Haven, Nov. 6.—Careless handling of the ball and a mix-up in signals which marked Yale's playing yesterday were entirely eliminated to-day, and the football team had a short and satisfactory practice. The "varsity minus 'Lefty' Flynn, who had recitations, scored twenty-one points to the scrub's nothing in a thirty-minute period.

The regulars played a good game offensively, and all of the backs, Spalding in particular, made several fine line plunges for good gains. On the defense they showed the same stubbornness which has been one of the best characteristics all season, and the scrub was able to make only one first down and never got nearer than the 'varsity 45-yard line.

Bomeister and Gallauer, the star ends, worked with the regulars in the signal drill. Both were excused from the heavy work. There is a chance that Bomeister will play in the Brown game for a few minutes. Gallauer is ready, and will be in his regular place. Cornell and Wheeler both worked at quarter, while Conney and Pendleton were the guards.

In the scrimmage Spalding scored the first touchdown wholly by his own good efforts and practically unaided. He carried the ball half the length of the field, smashing either side of the line for gains of from six to ten yards at a time. Philbin helped by two good plunges and kicked the goal.

Wheeler replaced Cornell at quarter after this and Spalding scored the second touchdown on a short gain at right end after both he and Spalding had made several plunges averaging about seven yards each. Pendleton kicked the goal. The third touchdown, with Dyer at quarterback, came harder. The substitutes were in the backfield and they were barely able to make their distances. Markle squeezed across the line and kicked the goal.

The play was of the type the coaches believe will be most effective in the big games, and of the type adhered to all season. Line-split and skin-tackle plays were used for the greater part, with occasional guard and centre dives.

Mitchell, of the scrub, ran one kick-off back twenty-five yards. This player is showing considerable ability in broken field work and almost daily makes such a run against the 'varsity.

Howe has started work on Alec Hammer, a scrub quarterback, to take the place of Loftus, who is out of the game for the remainder of the season with a fractured finger. Hammer has been doing fairly well and was allowed to run the 'varsity to-day in the closing minutes of play.

It is barely possible that Yale will abolish the direct pass from centre to the backs to a certain degree in the big games. Some of the coaches are objecting to it. While it saves time it is considered too dangerous; in case the back misses the pass or the centre passes poorly the opposing ends have a fine chance to get the ball as Sam White, of Princeton, did last year.

Baker took Flynn's place in the backfield to-day. Pumpelly has "charley-horse" and did not report.

It was learned on good authority here to-night that the Harvard team will spend the night before the Yale game at the Mohican Hotel in New London, Conn., to avoid the New Haven crowd. Ticket applications for the Yale-Harvard game closed to-night, and the management reports that more seats have been applied for, even under the more stringent rules, than ever before.

The following coaches, many of whom are working especially with the quarterbacks, were on hand to-day: Walter Camp, Tom Shevlin, Ted Coy, Carl Flanders, George Ade, "Pa" Corbin, Guy Hutchinson, Burr Chamberlain and Ralph Bloomer.

Howe used the following players as regulars and first substitutes: Avery, Gallauer, Sheldon, Carter and Gile, ends; Talbot, W. Warren and H. Warren, tackles; Arnold, Pendleton, Conney and Madden, guards; Ketcham and Read, centre; Cornell, Wheeler, Dyer and Hammer, quarterback; Philbin, Spalding, Baker, Markle, Dietz and Castles, backs.

(By Telegraph to The Tribune.)
Princeton, N. J., Nov. 6.—Cunningham kept the Tigers at work for three hours to-day on Osborne Field. It was the hardest practice that the regulars have had since their return to Princeton. For forty-five minutes the scrub had possession of the ball, but was unable to make any consistent gains. Then the first string men took the offensive, and succeeded in scoring twice in forty-five minutes of play, Waller and Pendleton being responsible for two touchdowns.

De Witt enjoyed a complete rest and Treknank took his place at fullback. Pendleton and "Hokey" Baker alternated at left halfback, while Waller was at right half and S. Baker at quarterback.

The 'varsity defence was strong. Although Blueenthal had a day off and Phillips played only twenty minutes at left tackle, the line had lots of power and drive.

Swart, at centre, was well supported by Logan and Shenk, who were towers of strength in the guard positions. Ballin, who took Phillips' place at left tackle, was in every play. He has plenty of weight, and with a little more experience should make a useful forward.

"Goldie" Wright and "Ham" Andrews were Trenchard's choice for the ends. Dunlap was in togs, but took no part in the scrimmage. According to Fitzpatrick, it is doubtful whether his injured shoulder will be in condition for the Yale game.

President-elect Woodrow Wilson came down to the field to-day and watched the work of the eleven with keen interest. He had a long chat with Ross McClave, "Big" Wheeler and Johnny "Poe," and wished them and the team luck.

VANDERBILT GAME NEXT

Some Substitutes Will Take the Field Against Team from Nashville.

(By Telegraph to The Tribune.)
Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 6.—Judging from the work of the Harvard football players in the stadium to-day, there is every indication that Haughton will start a team of first substitutes against Vanderbilt this week.

The 'varsity men, with the exception of Trumbull and Parmenter, all worked on signals this afternoon, and spent more than an hour perfecting plays from a new formation designed for use against Yale. Meanwhile the substitutes were having a taste of real football against the second team, beating them 24 to 0 in a forty-five minute scrimmage. The work of the second string men was good, the rushline being strengthened by McGuire, who has just been taken off probation. McGuire was running ahead of Trumbull for right guard for a while, but although he weighs 230 pounds, weight which the Harvard rushline needs, it is not probable that he will replace Trumbull.

Bradley, who has been coming along fast as first substitute quarterback, strained his ankle to-day. It is feared that he will not be able to play against Vanderbilt or Dartmouth, but it is hoped that he will be in condition to play in the Yale game, if needed.

The substitutes played straight football to-day. They made two touchdowns by long advances on line plays, and scored a third when Amory recovered a fumbled kick and ran half the length of the field.

Hollister did some more good drop kicking, scoring one goal from the 15-yard line and another from the 35-yard line. Captain Wendell was on the field and took part in the signal drill. His ankle is still a bit sore, but he will play part of the game against Vanderbilt on Saturday.

In fact, the entire 'varsity team, with the possible exception of Trumbull and Parmenter, will be ready to play for a period or two against the Southern champions. The eleven as a whole, however, needs rest, and the substitutes must do the bulk of the work. The backs to-day were Lankard, Bettie and Graustein, the men working together splendidly. Wigglesworth, who played centre at the end of the Princeton game, is expected to develop into a fine lineman before November 23.

(By Telegraph to The Tribune.)
West Point, N. Y., Nov. 6.—The Army's football practice consisted to-day of a short signal drill, after which the men were driven through a hard forty-five minute-scrimmage, during which the plays to be used in the game with the Indians were rehearsed.

Keyes and Hobbs were used a little and Devere was in the scrimmage only a few minutes. The men are in excellent condition physically, and no chances will be taken with a game like the one booked for Saturday staring the coaches in the face. Hobbs did the punting to-day for both teams and was only in during the kick formations. His work was only mediocre. Keyes alternated with Pritchard at running the team from quarter.

Huston is still being used at one of the guard positions on the second team and his work to-day in the line was good. He played the position last year, but until recently was prohibited from playing football on account of conditioning in studies which he has made up. Coffin, the little plucky who has been doing good work lately, ran fifteen yards and scored the scrubs' right wing to-day and scored the only touchdown of the afternoon.

The Culmum Hall ended team and the team from the New York Military Academy at Cornell played a game here to-day. Culmum won by a score of 12 to 0.

Uniform Par for All Courses To Be Fixed by Association.

Robert C. Watson, secretary of the United States Golf Association, has sent out blank forms and handicap instructions to 335 clubs. The secretaries have been warned that unless their part of the work is done promptly it will be impossible to get the 1913 national handicap list out on time. When the first national rating made its appearance 470 names were included, the amateurs being handicapped from scratch to 6, inclusive.

The United States Golf Association handicap is based on par and must be calculated in accordance with the associated system, for, as Mr. Watson readily explained, the handicap list will be valueless unless all clubs make their returns according to the same method.

A list prepared on a uniform basis will enable golfers to play anywhere in the United States on a proper handicap and will also afford a basis for fixing a uniform par for the course of all the clubs that are members of the association.

Directions for computing par are: Holes up to 255 yards, inclusive, par is 3; holes 256 to 425 yards, inclusive, 4; holes 426 to 600 yards, inclusive, 5; holes 601 yards and upward, 6.

Par means perfect play without flukes and under ordinary weather conditions, always allowing two strokes on each putting green. The figures given are not arbitrary, because some allowance should be made for difficult or unusual conditions. So also should be considered the severity of the hazards, especially on the hole where the par is doubtful. If on any hole the local committee finds that the par is more or less than the length of the hole would indicate, the reason for the change should be stated. Each hole should be measured from the tee to the centre of the green, following air line as nearly as possible.

BROWN TROUNCES SCRUB

'Varsity Scores Almost at Will in Long Scrimmage.

(By Telegraph to The Tribune.)
Providence, Nov. 6.—In a long scrimmage to-day, the Brown 'varsity scored freely on the second eleven, bringing off two touchdowns to the latter's one.

After a drill in punting and catching and running down under punts, the 'varsity, led by Crowther, quarterback, lined up opposite the second, captained by Webb. The regulars worked the forward pass well for one touchdown, then the scrubs did likewise. The 'varsity then took the ball up the field and carried it over by line bucking, in which Bartlett, at right halfback, displayed a good degree of skill and strength. Then from the 10-yard line the 'varsity took the leather over three or four times more.

The line-up for to-day's drill was as follows: Andrews, left end; Murphy, left tackle; Kulp, left guard; Mitchell, centre; Gottstein, right guard; Kratz, right tackle; Ashbaugh, right end; Crowther, quarterback; Tenney, left halfback; Bartlett, right halfback, and Henry, fullback.

MORE WORK FOR QUAKERS

Captain Mercer in Togs and Takes Part in Scrimmage.

(By Telegraph to The Tribune.)
Philadelphia, Nov. 6.—Captain Roy Mercer was out in football togs this afternoon for the first time since the Penn State game, and hopes to be in condition to start at fullback against Michigan on Saturday afternoon on Franklin Field. Should Mercer be unable to start, Smith will send in Marshall at that position.

Following the rudimentary drills in defensive work to-day, Smith put his men through a hard scrimmage against the scrub. The regulars were all out, with the exception of McNaughton, who is still on the injured list with a sore ankle. Andy Smith worked with the backfield men, while Wolfert and Gaston, the assistant coaches, took charge of the line. Smith had Dick Marshall out early trying placement kicks and kicking goals from the field. Marshall showed up brilliantly in this department.

The scrimmage which followed lasted nearly an hour and it was the hardest work of the day. It was announced that the annual fall handicap track and field meet would be held next Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

HAMILTON PILES UP SCORE

Darkness Saves Berkeley Eleven a Severe Beating.

Darkness put an end to the game between Hamilton Institute and Berkeley School at Van Cortlandt Park yesterday afternoon, when the score stood 49 to 0 in favor of Hamilton. Berkeley was completely outplayed at every stage of the game. Poor interference, or, rather, the total lack of it, was largely at fault, and Reed and Brophy, the Hamilton ends, crashed in behind the line to check plays before they got under way.

By comparison the play of Hamilton was brilliant. The backs got off fast and ran hard, so that tackling was a matter of difficulty. They formed their interference nicely, and swooped around the weak ends of Berkeley almost at will. Clever forward passing by Gregory added tribulations of the Berkeley defence, and the open play told for two touchdowns after long runs. Murane and Harris also played a good offensive game.

The line-up follows:
Hamilton (40). Position. Berkeley (6).

VICTORY FOR ST. MARK'S

Uses Open Game and Trounces the Groton Eleven.

(By Telegraph to The Tribune.)
Groton, Mass., Nov. 6.—All roads led to Groton School to-day, where the St. Mark's and Groton football eleven, cheered on by their respective students, parents and friends, held forth in their twenty-fourth annual battle on the gridiron, St. Mark's winning by a score of 17 to 0.

From the start St. Mark's played snappy football, easily outpacing the local boys and depending upon the open style of play. Groton used the forward pass with little or no success.

Neither side scored in the first period. In the second St. Mark's recovered the ball on Groton's 10-yard line on a poor pass by Clark, the ball rolling past Duncan, who had fallen back to punt. St. Mark's made five yards in three rushes, when Horne fell back to Groton's 15-yard line and booted the ball squarely between the goal posts and over the cross bar for three points.

St. Mark's scored two touchdowns in the fourth period, Pinckard and Landon each crossing the line on a series of line plunges. Kent kicked both goals.

The line-up follows:

NEW HOPE AT CORNELL

O'Connor Likely to Solve the Problem at Quarterback.

BETTER TACKLING NEEDED

Captain Butler Not Likely to Play Again Before the Pennsylvania Game.

(By Telegraph to The Tribune.)
Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 6.—The Cornell football team showed satisfactory improvement in its practice on Alumni Field this afternoon, and the work renewed the hopes that were dashed by the game with Williams last Saturday. A long scrimmage with the scrub, during which the 'varsity scored several touchdowns, followed by a half hour game against the strong freshman team made up the work.

The fact that the freshmen scored a touchdown means little in view of the fact that they came on the 'varsity field fresh from signal drill while the regulars had been hard at it for an hour. The score, however, did emphasize one deficiency, tackling, for the youngsters who made the tally were tackled by three 'varsity players before he was downed, and then slipped from under O'Connor to continue his run down the field.

The chief improvement was found in the punch and fight throughout the two sessions, a feature only apparent for the first part of the Williams game and an element in the eyes of Dr. Sharpe which is the making or breaking of a football team.

The 'varsity held the freshmen on several occasions to-day for downs and the line closed up the holes and broke through with encouraging regularity. Cornell's secondary defence still has much to learn before it can be effective.

The shift made yesterday of "Pinn" O'Connor from left half to quarter seems to solve the problem which the coaches have been working over for a long time, namely, to find a substitute for Butler. Captain Butler was again injured in the Williams game, and it now looks as if he would not be available before the Thanksgiving Day and then only for a short time. That he cannot be depended upon is now certain, and the shift, while it leaves O'Connor's place open for competition, is deemed advisable.

O'Connor's generalship in the Pennsylvania game last year warranted his selection, but the change was made with great hesitancy and only after the other candidates, Dixie Smith, Trainer and Tabor, had been carefully tried.

In order to strengthen the left side of the line, which had been weak, Williamson was sent over from right tackle to left yesterday to relieve Munns, who went to guard, and the same positions were occupied by these men to-day. On reliable authority it is learned that unless Green, who stands 6 feet 9 inches develops wonderfully in the next ten days, Williamson will remain on the left wing, with Lahr taking his place on the right.

In the backfield "Windy" Bennett, the crack hundred yard man, and Tabor, Bennett will be a valuable back if he can do anything to improve his tackling, and with Fritz out of the game indefinitely it is likely that he will have a good chance for the job. The competition for right halfback is between R. B. Whyte and Tabor, the latter a remarkably fast runner and a capable man in dodging tackles.

In short the main difficulty to be remedied now seems to be the ragged tackling. If this deficiency can be overcome Cornell may yet have a representative team in the games which remain on the schedule. The Cornell players must learn to hold on to their man after downing him and learn how to use their hands in defensive work.

OLCOTT RESTS HIS SQUAD

N. Y. U. 'Varsity Gets Signal Drill Instead of Scrimmage.

Practice for the New York University football team yesterday afternoon was light, as Hermann P. Olcott, head coach of the team, wished to rest the 'varsity after Tuesday's game with Trinity. He expects, however, to work them hard for the next two days in preparation for the contest with Princeton on Saturday.

The practice consisted of a long signal drill and punting. Olcott paid special attention to the line and to the backs. It was shown on Tuesday that the line would need considerable bolstering up to make any kind of a showing against Princeton, as Hudson, Trinity's fullback, was able to tear through the guards and tackles for good gains. Kennedy, a new man just before the Trinity game, was put in the backfield, and did some very creditable work.

In the punting Huntley did most of the work, although McDermott had a chance also. In connection with this part of the practice the linemen were drilled on getting down the field under punts and in eluding the interference.
